U.S. Government and Politics: Preparing for the Advanced Placement Exam David Wolfford
United States Government & Politics: Preparing for the Advanced Placement Examination, is an all new program that will equip students with skills to excel on the AP United States Government & Politics Exam. This text is divided into six units mirroring the structure of the AP U.S. Government and Politics College Board curriculum framework. The units feather a one-page overview focusing on critical thinking skills identified by the College Board and highlighting key concepts from the College Board Curriculum Framework. The provided critical thinking skills reinforce the features throughout the chapters and are assessed at the end of each unit. Data from the 2012 election and recent Supreme Court decisions provide up-to-date information for analysis. The many graphics and tables provide practice in interpreting visual information. Chapter assessments include a full range of multiple-choice items, including source-based questions, as well as two free-response questions. These are all modeled on the AP United States Government and Politics Exam. The complete text of the United States Constitution, a practice exam, and an extensive bibliography are all included.
